This has been difficult to pen down, even now, I still do not know how to go about it. Baami, Pàle of life, boyfriend mi.... I had so many names for you and you patiently and comically accommodated all of them and my shenanigans. I cry as I put this down because it feels like I am trying to forgive you for leaving this world so soon and so sudden.

The world best dad and father in law, you loved and accepted me absolutely, completely and whole-heartedly and this was the same way you interacted with every other person: wholly and without reserve. You didn't have so much materially, but you were contented with what you had and just like the 5 loaves and 2 fishes in the bible, it got multiplied. Npanyi, I wish you had stayed, I wish my children got to know this amazing human for themselves, I wish you would be here to pray and decree over them like you constantly did to me and for me. I didn't realize how much your words meant to me or impacted on me until you passed, but it is well. I can't question my maker, He gives and He takes. I miss you so much. If I had a penny for every time you smiled, I would have been a billionaire. If man were to be the bible we read, your life would have taken the lead.

My amebo partner, chai, all the gist am not privy to, I hear them from you and then you would say in ibo: pretend as if you have not heard, he will tell you later. You are never without a smile or a kind word, humble to a fault, hmmm.

I remember after momsie's episode in the hospital, how we sat down discussing and planning for 2021, your wedding anniversary, birthdays for you and momsie and how you will dance when you finally go to church for thanksgiving; little did we know that God had other plans for you. Your death broke my heart into tiny pieces but I rest in the fact that your death was the absolute will of God. I know you feel our pain and I also know you won't have wanted us to feel sad, but we are humans. I have never known you to bear any grudge against or for anyone, your purest heart would not have conceived that in the first place. Popsi, I can't stop talking about your person. Thank you for the amazing gift of your children, for the values and legacies imbibed in them. We miss you Popsi, your first son misses you so much. I pray we all find the grace and the fortitude to heal from this great loss.

There is a time for everything, and it was your time to go. I am most grateful for the opportunity for the time you spent with my family, though short but I feel blessed. Thank God for the grace of God over your life. You knew God and worshipped Him wholeheartedly. I know your passing was God's will, so I submit our pain and weakness of your passing to Him. I love you endlessly daddy, rest in absolute peace until the resurrection morning.

Adieu Papa

TRIBUTE TO MY BEAUTIFUL MOTHER IN LAW

I begged God to allow you get to 70 years at least. I know He heard me but He couldn't watch His beloved daughter go through more pain. My larger than life mummy, Asa mpete, nnukwu nwanyi, you stood toe to toe with challenges, stared it down and defeated it more time than even you can count. Twice you knocked death down and sent it packing. My beautiful, brave, gallant, bold, outspoken, lover of God, cheerful giver, heart of Gold mother in law, the Matriach of the Obioha Muotanya household, no one can ever be like you. You have written your name in the sands of time and posterity will always remember you. I still find it difficult to believe you are gone, it's difficult for me to come to terms with that reality but I saw you and touched you and was even told. My personal person, the one I run to seeking for advice and prayer. Omo our quarrels no be here o, but your love for me na die. I worried you shaa, I bugged you kai. I constantly told you that I was your twin in your former life, that I was your daughter from outside; I just remember how you roll your eyes whenever I say these things. Big mummy, the woman with the softest heart. You were strong willed, brave but you had a very soft heart which you were able to hide really from people. I had this thought constantly that if my husband mess up, you will reset him without trying too hard. You fight my battles, both physical and spiritual. Gallant soldier, you got the opportunity to receive the last sacrament before your passing, for this I am eternally grateful to God. If it is ever possible, please console your first son.

I keep remembering your words when you pray. You had the zeal to live, but your body was weak. Mummy go and rest, because you tried. I wish you are here to enjoy the fruits you toiled for but we are not God. I miss you, I miss looking for your trouble. Dubem asked why the doctors couldn't help you, I had no answer to that. He asked me again why God and Jesus didn't send you back, again I had no answer. We prayed earnestly for a miracle but the mystery of death came. Death is inevitable, it's a price we all must pay so we know that this was your time. You were a gift to mankind, your presence was felt in every way where ever you set your feet. The legacies you left behind, I pray for the grace to uphold. Adanna ya, Ada Nwakile, Obidiya, Oge mummy. We love you mama, but God absolutely loves you most.

Rest in peace Nne m ukwu

TRIBUTE TO MY GRANDPARENTS

I miss you so much grandpa, you never get angry with us. Kamso said you are playing game with grandma in heaven, but I have told him you and grandma are now angels, he will not listen.

Why didn't Jesus and God send grandma back? The doctors couldn't help her. Mummy she can't answer my questions.

I miss grandma too, but she likes to shout, my mummy said she shouts because she loves us. I wish you are still here. Sonkeme is always calling you and grandma. Mummy said you and grandma will not be lonely anymore. Dad is very sad but mummy said we will make him happy again. He misses you both.

TRIBUTE TO MUMMY

Your voice still echoes around the house. You were a formidable force. It's hard to find Mothers like you these days. High level of discipline meant that we were always self-checked. EULOGY TO THE WORLD BEST FATHER IN-LAW

14th of Dec was a date!!!! When my husband woke me and said "popsi is dead" I couldn't take it. It sounded so strange, your loving memories and smiles kept flashing, I can vividly remember our last conversation. I cried all-night, but I was consoled when I recollect the kind of life you lived.

You were a devoted, righteous Christian (who never skipped ANGELUS even in odd situation) I respect you so much for that big daddy!! To my admirable father-in-law and a father figure to me, you are indeed a SAINT in human form.

I heard his life wasn't an easy one, but to be honest he made sure that his children has what they needed to not only grow up but to be a loving, responsible, hardworking, ethical and God fearing. I admire the way he loves, listen and look at momsy, even at old age the love still overflow, such a sweet noble man.

A million things to say about you even when I haven't spent much years with you, I am confident that you died in the Lord(Rev 14:13). I must confess that you are the best father in law ever!!! Thanks for loving and accepting me as the baby of the house.

I WILL MISS YOU POPSY, MY DEAREST FATHER IN LOVE

ADAABI PEACE MUOTANYA.

TO THE WOMAN I LOVE!!!

I have lost a treasure!!!! I cannot believe I will be writing about you in past tense so soon. It is so hard for me to pen this down. Well, I pride myself and felt blessed that I could not relate to mother in-law horror stories. You never judged, criticized nor made me feel unworthy. I felt love and acceptance from you, you were never wronged in my sight and I love you so dearly mummy. I cannot stop thinking about you.

I will never forget the moment your heart stopped and mine kept beating fast. I watched you so closely with a tearful eyes fixed on the monitor, held your hands and prayed. It was so emotional seeing you pass through pains. Standing next to you was a living hell for me as the oxygen and heart rate count down began. You fought with your last strength even when it was weakened by the ailment, God saw how hard you were fighting, He knew you were suffering in pain. He put his arm around you and whispered "come to me". Glory be to God that you were able to recieve the Anointing of the sick and Holy Eucharist before your beautiful heart stopped beating.

Mummy, you touched my heart in so many ways, I salute your strength and faith. We bonded so well! Indeed I won the mother in-law lottery, hit the mom in-law jackpot but the cold hands of death snatched you away from me so soon.

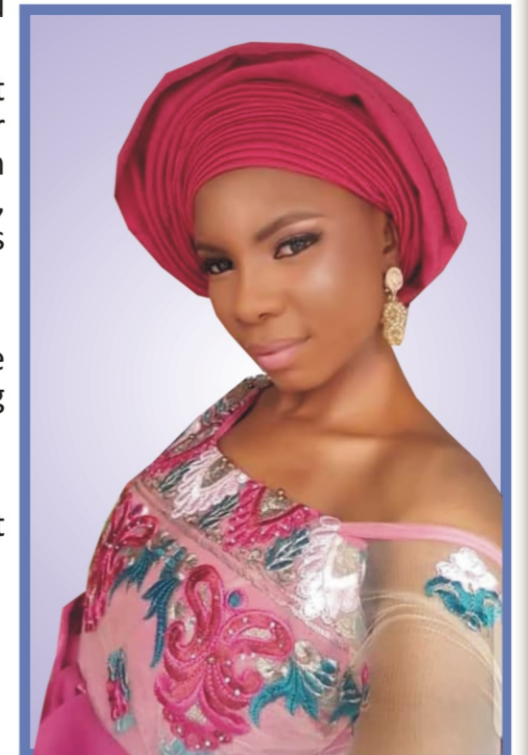

You raised a God fearing and confident children that are outstanding, you were the central figure of our family and I just don't know how we will move on from this. Your compassion for others was so deep, you treated others with kindness and many lives were blessed through your goodness.

My beautiful mother in-law deserves a garland, she had a great strength filled with wisdom, my shining example of candid loving personality.

I love you mumsy!!

Sleep the big sleep my Heroine! Words cannot express the vacuum you've left.

Tribute to my friend /sister

I am lost for words, i have no idea what to write because your death is still a shock to me. My visit to the hospital was so beautiful, we bonded like old times not knowing it was the last time I will see you. Wednesday morning came with the shocking news of your demise. It shook me to my very core. I asked unanswerable questions, and begged God to bring you back to us but God knows best.

You are an unforgettable friend turned sister.

It's so saddens my heart that you will be buried alongside your beloved husband. We love you but God loves you more.

May your gentle souls continue to rest in perfect peace. Amen

TRIBUTE TO MY MASTER

Late Mr Nicholas Obiora Muotanya (Nichomex) We all know that earth is only a temporary home and death is inevitable. I will miss my master, I know that's the feeling of many people, agony soreness, discomfort and sadness. Its funny how you see someone today and the next day they are gone, this is just the case of my MENTOR, Nichomex, his demise was a great shock to me. The sad news I couldn't believe until I spoke with his son who confirmed it. Only God knows why now. No one has any right to question God.

A peace loving and a contented gentleman with a happy family, a man of a very good character, honesty, fairness, God fearing and much more I have never seen him quarrel with anyone.

I have no doubt in my mind that my master has achieved his mission on earth and it is time to meet his maker. I thank the almighty God for granting him a peaceful death on 14th December,2020. I know that you are safely in the hands of our Mother Mary and her son and I pray that the almighty will strengthen your wife physically and grant her the fortitude to bear the great loss of OBIORA as she fondly calls you.

Rest in peace my oga

TRIBUTE TO MY BELOVED IN-LAW.

Beloved In-law and brother. Your death was a shock to me because I never expected that you will go so soon after having a nice time with you. When I visited to see you not for sickness. However, I am consoled knowing your faith in the Lord, I simply concluded with the saying that, DEATH IS LIKE A SHARP BEND NEAR THE BEGINNING OF LIFE PROCESSION TO ETERNITY; Death, a Journey From Life That Does Not End; Death, The End Of Old and Beginning Of a New Life; Death, The Road That All Must Pass; Death, The Necessary End To The Old And The Beginning Of The New; Death The End Of All Pains And Sufferings. Azubueze; I have no doubt that you're with the Lord because you actually prepared for the eternal life which is the hope of every believer.

I have no choice than to believe that God has planned it and called you at His own time and will.

Who then can make noise. Therefore I believe that you did not die but slept to wake when the trumpet shall sound to go into eternity with the Lord in the Mansion He has prepared for those who loved Him.

I know you faithfully completed your race.
Your crown is sure my beloved In-law.
Good bye my beloved Azubueze.

Sleep in Peace till we meet to part no more.

Your In-law

A LIFE THAT BORE MUCH FRUIT

The mystery of human life makes it that many events and happenings leave unpleasant memories and yet, such happenings are inescapable. Death is one of such happenings that we never seem to desire but would continually stare us in the face as a reality that highlights the finitude of human life. It is truly the call of the Divine master which Papa has finally answered.

Nnaochie!!! You have gone before us to enjoy the eternal bliss but surely you live on. Though we are denied your physical presence, the sweet memories we hold of you is surely perennial. You lived in the world and now, you live in our hearts forever and a numerous others whose lives you affected positively. I could not ask that you live forever since the fact of death is both true and inevitable. Mine is a sincere wish that you could have spent more time with us in your earthly existence. This is surely a wish since at this time all we can do is to accept the perfect will of God whom it has pleased to call you back at the time He did.

Ochie!!!, sleep on as we continue our earthly struggles to uphold your legacies and do nothing less than pray for beatific vision.

Mr. Lotanna Asuzu and Family.

TRIBUTE TO A BROTHER INDEED

Oh!! My Right Hand Man Has Gone. My Only Reliable Brother And Friend Has Gone. The Most Gentle Of All Gentle Men Has Gone. Yes!! Upon All Odds, The Devil Could Not Separate Our Intimate Brotherly Love. On That Faithful Day When One Of My Sons Broke The News Of His Death To Me, I Became Dizzy And Quiet For A While. I Just Beg My Son To Take Me To The Church. There At The Church Praying, I Realised It Was A Reality. God Referred Me To Many Verses In The Bible Including Mt.24: 42-44. & Mk. 13:32-37. Which Says {watch, For You Do Not Know The Hour Your Lord Will Come. If The Owner Of The House Knew The Time When The Thief Would Come, He Would Be Awake Not To Let The Thief Break Into His House. So Also You Must Always Be Ready Because The Son Of Man Will Come At The Hour You Do Not Expect.}

One Thing Is Certain, God Can Never Make A Mistake. Our Brother Nicholas Died At The Appointed Time God Needed Him. Death Bitters And Hurts Us When We First Hear It. But Let Us Understand That "death" Is A Command From The Most High God. Who Is Omnipotent, Omniscient And Omnipresent.

Therefore, Let Us Continue In Fervent Prayers And Prepare For Our Own Death, For Every Living Soul Must Surely Die.
May The Gentle Soul Of Brother Nich And The Souls Of All The Faithful Departed Through The Mercy Of God Rest In Perfect Peace. Amen.

Yours Ever Brother

TRIBUTE TO BIG DADDY

Love leaves a memory no one can steal, but death leaves a heartache no one can heal. I still cannot believe you have left us. I will always remember and love you. You have left a big void in my life and it will never be the same again. You will always be in my thoughts, prayers and in my heart.

I wish I expressed how much I loved you when you were with us. I wish I could turn back time. I will never forget you and you will always remain our (Big daddy) but again it is a loving memory for me when I think about the life of you (big daddy) and all you did for me in the past years we spent together.

The good memories remain with me forever, knowing the ability imparted by you dad into my life. All the good things that you taught me.....An intelligent and intellectual man full of joke's, always stresses the importance of education and hard work in life to become a great person.... Daddy, my heart bleeds each time I remember that you are gone, but your loving and caring fatherly role will continue lingering in my humble heart.

Love from ONYII.

TRIBUTE TO MY BELOVED SENIOR BROTHER/WIFE

I am writing this tribute with heavy heart, trying to come to terms with the sudden demise of my brother after about few days that he was asking me to join him n thanking the Lord for saving his wife, only for the unexpected to happen. Again death struck and took my darling wife, when we were thanking God for sparing her, but at the end the Lord decided that she should join her lover. Indeed I lack words to express my shock, at the news of the demise of my wife (Mama Oby) as I fondly call her. All mortals must answer this call, but I never expected it now nor ever imagined it almost the same time. God gave God has taken, to his name alone be all the glory. Who are we to question God.

My beloved brother/wife, sleep on till we meet to part no more. Rest on dearie's, rest on Azubueze, rest on Ifee Di ya, Rest on Di okpals nnem, Rest on ezinwannem, Rest on ezinwunyem, jee nu nke oma. Ka chi fonu.

Tribute to my beloved SENIOR BROTHER

Oh noooo this life, only God understands this life. Indeed we are all pilgrims on a journey, no one knowing when he/she will end. On 10th December 2020, when I was discussing with you on the phone, little did I know that it was my last discussion with you my brother. You assured me you will be around in January, not knowing that the cold hand of death will snatch you away from us before that time.

Death you are too cruel to take my beloved brother at the time we needed him most and when he supposed to enjoy more of his labour. Infact your sudden demise is another shock that only God can heal me from. Your death has created another deep vacuum in my heart.

God knows why He allowed it, no one will question His Majesty. But it really hurts to say bye to a wonderful brother like no other.

TRIBUTE TO MY MENTOR

Death!!! Your name alone is fearful, everyone awaits you, but do not know the exact time you will come knocking.

The unexpected demise of my boss in December 2020 followed by his wife on Wednesday 3rd March 2021, was a great shock to me. A couple with great distinction, kindhearted, cherished by all and lived an exemplary life.

I still wonder why good people are called early by Mr Death, only God knows and owes no apology to anyone. His timing is perfect and beyond human comprehension.

Nick and Uche built a good family of God blessed with children and grandchildren of wisdom. I know our mother Mary whom you never failed to call everyday will not abandon both of you and you will keep resting in the bosom of our Lord.

I pray the good Lord will give the loved ones you left behind the fortitude to bear the loss. Amen.

TRIBUTE TO MY BELOVED SISTER.

It's hard to put into words how I feel about my Sister's passing. Of course the natural emotions of loss and nostalgia are all over me, but there's something else. A strange sense of frustration as I try to bring to mind her facial expressions, her voice and most of all her personality. We were robbed of all or most of that.

I can't help wondering why it is that some are snapped up in an instant. They're here one moment and then their gone. You won't hear me reciting familiar, age old Psalms about comfort and peace. I won't justify it all with a simple, God works in mysterious ways or she's in a better place. Not because I don't feel those things, I do. As a matter of fact I envision my sister painting, moving her brush across the canvas of the sky, tilting the light between the leaves just right. I feel her warmth in the sun on my face and the squeeze of her hand.

I don't have any answers. Any more than I understand the suffering around the world and how a loving God could stand by, let alone watch. I'm saddened by the greed and pride that wreak havoc on our world.

But I don't need any simple answers. I don't need to understand all the mysteries of why some are born with sight and others never see. I'm content with what I know. Which isn't very much.

When I think of my Sister, I think of light. How her life brought joy to those around her. She may not have been famous or discovered something new, but her energy of spirit drove all that's right about this world.

So when I'm sad or frustrated I can think of my Sister who always made me feel so special, I will never forget her artistic eyes, always bright and open wide as if she didn't want to miss a moment of the beauty of this world. There was an energy within her, a light that never waned. She gifted that to us, to all of us that knew her. I'm proud to carry a small part within my heart.

Sister Uche you have been on my mind and will forever be in my heart. A kind of soul connection. I hope someday, when I feel those tugs of spiritual communion, I'll be more inclined to act. I want so badly for her to know how much more her life meant to me. But sadly she has gone to be with the Lord. We love you sweet sister and you will forever live in our hearts. Adieu.

Mrs Ebere Orji.

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN!

I am really saddened and grieving at the demise of your precious souls, I am wondering where else we can get the heartfelt love and care you both lavished on us?

We take solace in the fact that you both lived a good life, a life we all are proud of.

May God almighty comfort us and may he give you both safe resting in perfect peace, till we meet to part no more, Amen.

Rest in peace Big Daddy and Big Mummy!

TRIBUTE TO AN HONEST MAN

Oga Nick, death is inevitable, it is a call from God which is one by one, today's your turn tomorrow is another man's turn.

You were an honest man and a true child of God. A man who believed that with God all things are possible.

A man who believed that no other gods can make things happen than God. A man who trusted and believed in God. Today the Lord our God who brought you here on earth have called you to his bosom. We can't say that God took you early but he called you to stay with him at the time that pleases him, but we humans see it that it's not the right time but God knows best. You are going to rest in peace and you are resting in peace. So we give God thanks for the mercy he showed to you before he called you and made people know that you are really his son.

The little you have enjoyed here on earth is enough for God not for man. Your children are happy because you never showed them any wrong way but the way of God. Through the intercession of Saint Jude your patron saint, God almighty and all the angels and saints in heaven will welcome you to the bosom of Abraham our father in faith.

Good night sir. Bye Bye!!!!

Tribute to my Sister

The moment I realized, my sister just died. My hands cradled my face, I sit here and ponder how very much I'd like to talk with her today, there are so many things that we didn't get to say.

My sister, I know how much she care for me, and how much I care for her, and each time I think of her, I know she'll miss me too.

An angel came and took her by the hand, and said her place was ready in heaven, far above... and she had to leave behind, all those she dearly loved.

Why did this happen, and how could this be. She had so much to live for, we could all clearly see. She had so much to do...

It still seems impossible that God was taking you.

And though your life on earth is past, in Heaven it starts anew.

You'll live for all eternity, just as God has promised you.

I will miss our talks, and her comforting voice.

And those random moments, where we'd mutually rejoice.

And though you've walked through Heaven's gate, we're never far apart, for every time I think of you you're right here, deep within my heart.

From your beloved brother,
Sir Darlington Chinedu Chiugo.

TRIBUTE TO MY BELOVED COUPLE

I write this tribute with total resignation to the will of God. There is a time for birth and a time for death. Eccl: 3;2.

Two of you lived a life of faith, love, charity, and fought for the oppressed. Auntie Uche was always outspoken. Your love and care for my family will never be forgotten. Book of wisdom chp. 3:1_6 says that the soul of the righteous are in the hands of God and will not suffer torment.

Papa Oby, Mama Oby we miss you very much. You are in replaceable. No amount of tears will bring you back to the world. You are safe with God. Sleep well until we meet to part no more. Everyone will pay the prize of death. You left legacies for which you will be remembered.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR ELDEST SIS!

This is a tribute to a sister who has a unique Love story.

Although these deaths are tragic to human eyes, but we tell you today that the love this couple share is too strong. Both cannot stay without the other, that is why it played out this way. We are overly pained, but we cannot question God...He is Almighty and All knowing.

Sis Uchee, we all made out time to speak with you in December with the plan to all converge after our brother in law's burial to have a family discussion, not knowing you have other plans. you were too eager to join your dear husband.

It's the will of God that must prevail.

TRIBUTE TO MY BIG SISTER!

The death of my big sister and mummy excruciates my heart with so much pain and agony because the last day I saw her in the hospital she told me that she was not going to die. She always gave me hope. She is the reason am in Lagos today, When I just got married, she never heard my cry and delayed coming to my rescue. She was always there for me. She always shows us how much she cared.

You have been a sister and more like a mother to me, I would not trade you for another sister.

Mrs Cecilia Okafor.

TRIBUTE TO A GREAT FRIEND/ NEIGHBOUR

I'm not sure how to do this. How can I try and describe someone so special in plain old words? And how can I possibly sum up the memories I have for Ogee Mummy as my children n I fondly call her in one tribute? It's almost impossible.

There are words of happiness about the treasured time we all had with her. There are words of beauty to describe her individuality and how she always looked. There are words of bitterness and sadness as at this period.

Your friendship was a blessing and I miss you dearly.

We shared so many secrets.

You brightened up my days.

You brought me so much happiness.

With your kind and loving ways, you lifted up my spirit.

When I was feeling blue, no matter what was happening, you knew just what to say or do.

Today we are here to celebrate your life.

And the measure of it's worth.

And every single life you touched, while you were alive.

We wish to pay our last respects. That's why we are here.

To thank you for your friendship, and all the memories we hold dear.

It's been a privilege to have known you.

We were family, not just neighbour / friend.

And we will carry you in spirit until we meet to part no more.

Dearest Big Sis

Even though you are no longer with us, your love will always be here to stay. You touched our hearts through so many ways.

We love you Sis but God loves you more,
He took you home to get some rest, even though we loved you best.

Our hearts are filled with so much pain but we are consoled by the fact that we would meet on the "resurrection morning"

At this time we must let go. We will forever cherish your memories.

Rest on our dear cousin.
Your memories will live on...

Christopher Anyaebosi and family.

TRIBUTE TO MY BELOVED PARENTS

I am still in shock of the news of your deaths, I can't believe I will be writing a tribute of you so soon. You are indeed great people to me.

I remember how you picked me and my son, when we are walking like sheep without shepherd, you both accepted and stood by me, not only like a parent but like saviour. I can't question God why he took you both away from me now. I will live to tell your many words of encouragement and life worthy of emulation.

BIG DADDY and BIG MUMMY! SO WONDERFUL AND DEAR, TOGETHER IN LIFE, TOGETHER IN DEATH.

SWIFTER THAN EAGLE, STRONGER LION.

TRIBUTE TO MY BELOVED ADANNE

Adanne as I fondly call you, Ada Nwakile, Apunanwu, Oyoko di ya, Ochiri Ozuu, Agabala Nwanyi. Its unfortunate the feather came to you at this time, at a time I felt you were still in your prime, to relax and reap the fruit you toiled for, but God had other plans, He took you so you could reap in heaven what you spent years on earth sowing.

Adanne, words fail me, you broke my heart. This was not the plan at all, the plan was that we will both live the life our other siblings didn't get to live on earth. This pain won't go away, but I trust the will of God.

You took me in when you got married, trained and raised me into the woman I am today. I took care of your four (4) children from birth till I left you to start a life for myself. We all have our faults, but I won't trade you for another. You were one in a million.

You had little, but worked hard with Nnam'ukwu, your husband, to give your children the basics and yet no one came to your house and left hungry or naked. Warrior woman, you were a force to reckon with. You spoke up against injustice. You hated seeing people been oppressed whether male or female.

3rd march is a day I will never forget as long as I have breath. You decided to leave me. I know left to you, you would have stayed mana anu aru gi, juru aju.

I am thankful that God relieved you of the pains, but Adanne I miss you and will miss you. Your topnotch encouragement and advice, your legacies, too numerous to count.

I Thank God for the gift of your life to mankind.

Rest in peace Mama Obiageli

Greet our parents & siblings for me.

Rest in peace.

TRIBUTE TO A LOVELY COUPLE NICHOLAS AND UCHE MUOTANYA

Like a dream I can't awaken from. It hurts that earth's space no longer has both of you. UCHE, I was with you on Ash Wednesday to put 'blessed ash' on your forehead and we chatted as usual. There was no sign that the end was near. We were discussing the plan on how to give a befitting burial to your husband. The Asoebi you gave me for the burial of your husband is now for both of you. Life itself is vanity. UCHE why? Is that how to die? Nicholas, my question is 'why did you not send her back for the sake of your children'. UCHE you confessed that your children were giving you the best treatment and prayed to God to bless them for you. I know that your choice would have been to live longer but with God's decision, no appeal.

I miss both of you dearly and your life and death will remain in my mind. If both of you are not in heaven, then nobody is there. Pray for us to meet you there since you have finished your race. Farewell to the lovely couple, though the parting was not well made. Rest in peace, life might not be forever but I will keep my memory with you for as long as I live till we meet to part no more. Your death is a big teacher to us that are still alive. My Nick, ka chi foo! Uche! Nwany innewi!! Mama Oby Jee nke oma. Igwe nine jije na uzu.

TINA CHUKS.

A Tribute to a BIG UNCLE AND HIS WIFE

Though we are sad, your maker knows that you have fought a good fight, you have finished the race and that you must be by his side and take a good rest.

MY dear uncle I am saddened by your departure from us. A departure that is inevitable as all of us await this experience. I thank God for your life which impacted positively on me. Now and then I glanced through your picture to reassured myself that you have gone to your maker.

The memories of past events of my experiences with you were alive. Rest on papa Obiageli . May the good Lord reward you whom you served while on earth.

Mrs. Uchenna Louisa Muotanya

To be honest I am still in shock of your demise. I am still wandering about this thing called life in general.

January 2020 was our last encounter. We talked with out knowing that will be my last encounter with you. You fought a good fight. May the Lord and his angels accompany you this journey to your eternal dwelling place. And may our Lady whom you never failed to invoke each day, be close to you as you joyfully rest in the bosom of the Lord.

Adieu Rest in Peace.

TRIBUTE TO OUR DEAREST MEMBER AND SISTER MRS UCHE MUOTANYA

Death is an inevitable end for all.

We live well to die well.

We die to live again.

When we live well in Christ, we hope to live with Him eternally in heaven.

We the members of ANUKA PROGRESSIVE UNION Women's Wing Lagos Branch write this tribute to an Amazon, a Rare gem, our own dearest

Mrs Uche Muotanya.

Whenever you had anything to say, you hardly stopped talking, without mentioning your husband Obioha.

When we paid you a condolence visit for the loss of your husband Mr Obioha, you told us how you were sick and hospitalized. You were already recovering.

Suddenly the news of your demise came as a rude shock to everyone of us.

We can't question God for He knows the end even from the beginning. We give Him all the Glory, for He said we should thank Him in everything.

You always made everyone laugh, every meeting you attended was always a memorable one, because we always had something to learn from you.

We will miss you greatly.

We pray that the Good Lord will grant you and your husband eternal rest in His Glorious Kingdom in Heaven.

We pray that your souls will rest in God's perfect peace, Amen.

Adieu our beloved Uche.

Dearest,

CONDOLENCE MESSAGE

We got the news of your mother's death, Late Mrs. Louisa Muotanya, with yet another shock when you are preparing for the burial of your father, Late Mr. Nicholas Obioha Muotanya (Azubueze). We are saddened by the unpleasant news not because we have control over death but because it is painful to lose a loved one; in this case your dearest parents.

In everything life means all that it ever meant; it is the same as it ever was; there is absolute and unbroken continuity. What is this death but a negligible accident? "Death is nothing at all; it does not count; they (your parents) have only slipped away into the next room. Nothing has happened, says Harry Scott. Definitely this is not the end of the world. Your parents have lived their lives and has set a good precedent to you, they have put in their best it is left for you to keep the light shining even better.

Be consoled in this trial moment and take solace in your faith.

May the souls of Late Mr. Nicholas Obioha Muotanya (Azubueze) & Late Mrs. Louisa Muotanya rest in peace.

Ones more accept our condolences.

Yours faithfully,
