

WALLACE LEE SMITH

Our Epitome of Love

“My name is Wallace Lee Smith - how do you do?
My name is Wallace Lee Smith - how do you do?
We’re so very very glad to meet, a friend like you
Howdy do, howdy do”

This is the happy tune Uncle Wallace lovingly taught his family. The young and old, the children and toddlers all had fun learning these joyful words. We sang these words to introduce ourselves and to greet one another at family reunions, parties, picnics, bus rides and other family gatherings.

Then, on his more spiritual side, for many years, Uncle Wallace would sing with a heartfelt conviction:

“I’d rather have Jesus than silver or gold,
I’d rather have Him than riches untold,
or to be the king of a vast domain,
I’d rather have Jesus than anything.”

Uncle Wallace loved and served the Lord!

God our Father, your Servant, Wallace Lee Smith loved, honored, worshipped and praised you.

Sons Wally and Gary, your Dad held a deep love for you that was draped with pride.

Grandchildren and Great Grands, your Granddad held a great love covered with pride for each of you.

Nieces and Nephews, our Uncle held a deep love full of pride for each of us.

Church Family, School Family, Friends and Neighbors, Wallace loved you all.

WALLACE LEE SMITH was Our Epitome of Love.

Forever cherished Wife, Lucille; Adored Mom, Dad and Stepmom; beloved Siblings Oscar, Pearl, Fannie Bea, James, Vermie Dell, Eloise and Charles, Uncle Wallace rejoins you in the family circle, and he moves the rest of us to the next chapter. His physical presence will no longer grace our gatherings, but We, Your Family, will forever keep You close in Our Museum of Heart and Mind.

Loving you always,

Beatrice, on behalf of your Nieces & Nephews
